HORROR!

A Negress Kills a Little Babe

And Serves it Roasted for Dinner at a Picnic Given by Colored Folks.

The Frenzied Crowd Seize the Hag and Burn Her at the Stake.

AN OLD WINCH

Serves Roasted Babe at a Picnic.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 27.—A horrible report coming from the lower end of Talnall county has just been received. A negro woman engaged to prepare dinner for a colored picnic murdered a young child which had been left in her charge. She cooked half the remains and served it to the people. The other half of the remains were found sited down in a barrel. The negroes became perfectly frenzied on making the discovery, seized the woman and burnt her at a stake. The report seems to be authenticated.

CAMP GRAY.

Annual Encampment of the Indiana Militia—Program and Prospects.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 27.—The encampment of the Indiana state militia began in earnest yesterday morning. The following companies have arrived: Company A, third regiment, forty-five men, Charles H. McCarter, Indianapolis; company B, second regiment, forty men, Captain Frank W. Rawles, Fort Wayne; Arnold Rifles, twenty-eight men, Captain James Arnold, South Whitley; Andrews Old Guards, company D, first regiment, seventy-four men, Captain Lasalle Long, Andrews, with the Huntington band; company F, Peru Veterans, twenty-five men, Captain H. F. Baley, Peru; company G, first regiment, Peru Zouaves, thirty men, Captain Ed Maxwell, Peru; company B, third regiment, thirty men, Captain John M. Powell, Lebanon; Shepherd light infantry, forty men, Captain T. W. Stegg, Indianapolis; company G, McPherson light infantry, forty-seven men, with Portland cornet band, Captain W. W. McKeen, Indianapolis; Logan Grays, thirty-six men, Captain Wm. C. Chase, Logansport; Bunker Hill Light Guards, forty-two men, Captain W. Robbins, Bunker Hill; company C, first regiment artillery, fifteen men, Captain J. B. Shaw, Lafayette; Fort Wayne Veterans, forty men, J. B. Harper, captain.

The whole day has been occupied in arranging camp. The city is handsomely decorated. Thousands of people are already in attendance, the streets being thronged, and the 150 acres of the fair grounds being alive with men. Floral hall has been made the official rendezvous and supply department. Adjutant General Koontz has fixed his field headquarters where he can view the entire camp. The camp is named Camp Gray, in honor of the governor. By to-morrow the camp will be in shape and the prize drills of the Indiana legion begin. Battery G., first regiment Indiana artillery, from Indianapolis, has entered for the free for all drill, state drill and Gatling gun drill.

To-day and to-morrow the competitive drill will take place. To-morrow morning Barnum and the entire military companies will parade the streets. This will undoubtedly be one of the greatest sights ever witnessed here. Thursday is set aside as "Old Soldiers' Day." Friday is "Governors' Day." The main exercises will be held in the city that day. Governor Gray will review the military from the west wing of the court house, and the prizes will be awarded. Governor Ogelsby, of Illinois, and staff have given Adjutant General Koontz, positive assurance of their attendance; Governor Foraker, of Ohio, will not be here, but will be represented by the adjutant general of the state. Lieutenant Governor Manson promises to be present during the entire week. About forty Indiana companies will be in camp. The prizes aggregate $3,700; $1,700 in prizes are to be awarded to the competing organizations of the Indiana Legion; $700 in prizes to be competed for by the veterans of the Indiana Legion. The free-for-all infantry drill prizes to be competed for as follows: First prize $1,000; second, $300; free-for-all zouaves, $300; free for all artillery, $400.

KNEW HIM.

The Tramp Killed by a Wabash Train Recognized.

WABASH, Ind., July 27.—Yesterday Coroner Zimmerman, Township Trustee Cory and a reporter accompanied by Brock Lee, of Kilbride, Ontario, went to the poor farm, where they exhumed the body of William Bell, the man who was run over near Rich Valley by a Wabash train a few days since. Though badly decomposed Lee recognized the features of the dead man as those of his brother, who had given a fictitious name to the officers here. After Lee had secured a lock of his brother's hair the body was reinterred, and Lee returned home last evening. It is understood that no further investigations will be made to obtain the identity of the brakeman whom the dead man claimed pushed him off of the moving train, causing his death a few hours later.

MR. STEELE.

Spent $10,000 More Than His Income.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Congressman Steele has said that he will not be a candidate for re-election. He claims that during the time he has been in congress, he has spent $10,000 more than his income, and, besides, he sees no possible chance for a re-election. He said to a friend that his last run was the best one he ever made, though his majority was but fifty-four, and he thought it best to stand upon that. His party will no doubt want to nominate him, but he now gives out that he will decline. He thinks Major Kidd will be the democratic candidate and will be elected.

Charged With Murder.

GREENSBURG, July 26.—Marshal Clemens, of this city, arrested Henry Webster at Osgood this morning about 4 o'clock, and lodged him in jail here. Webster was arrested for stealing a horse in Boone county, this state, and selling the same at Cincinnati. This is the same crime for which Tom Foster was arrested some two weeks ago. Webster is also charged with murdering a man at Camden, N. J., some seven or eight years ago.

Texas Cattle Fever.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 27.—A Bozeman special says: "The Texas fever has broken out among a lot of graded cattle brought here by J. F. Carlin, from Kansas City. Already twenty-one have died and many more deaths are expected. The herd has been quarantined."

Will Not Join the Knights.

NEW YORK, July 27.—After four hours discussion, at a meeting called for the purpose, a resolution was adopted by the Cigar Maker's union opposing the union with the Knights of Labor.

A Prize Fight.

BARRIS STATION, Pa., July 27.—Two miners, Jimmy Sullivan and Miles McGuirk, fought a prize fight of eleven rounds last night, Sullivan being declared the victor.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Wheat, 1 1/2c higher. No. 2 red, August, 85c 85 1/2c. Corn, 1 1/4c higher, strong, 46c 50 1/2c. Oats 1 1/4c higher, 37c 46c.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Wheat, closed steady; cash, 76 1/2c; August, 76 1/2c. Corn, firmer at 43 1/2c. Oats, firm and higher, at 28 1/2c.

A BRUTE.

He Murders and Mutilates His Mistress.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 27.—At 11 o'clock last night the police were informed that William O'Connor had confessed to murdering his mistress, Mrs. Hannah Conway. He was found in bed and arrested. Following his directions the officers proceeded to the wood shed, where they dug up the remains of a woman with her legs cut off above the knees. O'Connor appeared not to realize the enormity of his crime. He said one day he stripped the woman, pushed her into the shed and murdered her with an axe. O'Connor is fifty-six years old and has lately been out of work. The woman's age was forty years. They had lived together several months.

British Cabinet.

LONDON, July 27.—The Marquis of Salisbury, Lord Randolph Churchill and Sir Michael Hicksbeach had a long conference this afternoon. It is reported that Lord Salisbury is having trouble in the work of filling the post of chief secretary for Ireland, no man desiring to take the office under the present government.

Lord Cadogan will probably be selected as secretary for the colonies in the new cabinet.

It is stated that Lord Randolph Churchill has accepted the position of chancellor of the exchequer and leader in the house of commons.

OFFICIAL.

Carlton club met this afternoon and the Marquis of Salisbury was given an ovation.

He made an address on the political situation, and dwelt on the wisdom and necessity of acting in accord with the liberal unionists in the Irish policy.

Among the announcements he made was that Right Hon. W. H. Smith had been agreed upon as chief secretary for Ireland.

Stole $60,000.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—William P. Pierson, cashier and chief book keeper of the American Baptist publication society, has been discovered to be defaulter to the amount of $60,000.

Fatal Riots.

AMSTERDAM, July 27.—It is believed twenty persons were killed and eighty wounded in riots yesterday and Sunday.

Reid did not Come.

Capt. Diehl did not bring Fred C. Reid in from Chicago this afternoon as expected but will do so to-night.

BEN EVANS, better known as "Old Red Ben," died a few days ago at the age of one hundred and seven years. It is said that he was part Indian, and was born and lived all his life in Wilkes County, near the Tallapoosa line, in Georgia. He was born the property of Mr. William Evans, at War Hill, on Kittle Creek, and belonged to three generations of the Evans family. When the Kittle Creek battle was fought between the British and Americans he was a little child. He lived all his life within three miles of the place of his birth, and joined the church and was baptized after he was a hundred years old. He was a noted hunter and fisher, and he continued to fish up to a short time before his death. He walked three miles last year to the river to fish.

Mr. GEORGE JONES, publisher of the New York Times, tells the following story of Henry J. Raymond, formerly editor of that paper: Years ago Raymond was a reporter on the Tribune, then edited by Greeley, and was called upon to report a lecture delivered by Sir Edward Lyall. A number of reporters were present, but as the lecturer became technical they one by one dropped out. Mr. Raymond alone remained, and, understanding his subject, made out his report. The lecture was delivered in the old Tabernacle, on Broadway, and Mr. Raymond on his way to the Tribune office encountered a storm which drenched him thoroughly. He wrote out his notes sitting in his wet clothes, and next day was too sick to rise from his bed. It was some eight or nine weeks before he reappeared at the office, and then he found that his salary had been stopped when he fell ill. Mr. Raymond then said: "If ever I am an employer such a thing as this will not occur." And he kept his word.

CORN!

It Enjoys a Boom at Chicago.

The Price Quickly Flies up and the Market is Wild and Excited Over it.

The Anarchists Trial and the Watchfulness of the Canadian Government.

WILD SCENES

On the Chicago Corn Market this Morning.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Corn opened with a boom this morning on account of the drought, with prices over 1c higher for September. The first official sales were at 43 1/2c, but the market was so wild that while there were sellers at 43 1/2c in one part of the crowd it was selling in all others at 44c. Wheat was also stronger in sympathy with corn.

MORE FLOWERS

Are Given the Chicago Anarchists.

CHICAGO, July 27.—At the anarchist trial to-day, several reporters and police officers were examined, mainly in corroboration of the evidence of the previous witnesses, as to the remarks of Fielden, Spies, Parsons and others and the throwing of the bombs. Nothing new was elicited. A woman gave bouquets to the prisoners.

CHICAGO, July 27.—It has recently come to the knowledge of the state attorney that for the past two years the Canadian government has kept two expert detectives in this city watching the movements of Chicago dynamiters in regard to their connection with the Riel rebellion and other insurrectionary movements contemplated, but not carried out, in that country. It was known that should they be compelled to testify at the present trial they would at once be recognized by socialists and therefore rendered useless for further work. In view of these circumstances they have been recalled within the past few weeks until the trial is concluded when they will return.

THE CUTTING CASE.

Intense Prejudice Existing Against Americans.

NEW YORK, July 27.—A Washington correspondent says: "The government is greatly embarrassed in dealing with the Cutting case, because there is no United States consul at Chihuahua. Formerly this place was of no particular importance, but since the Mexican Central railroad opening and American capital has been invested in mines, the consulate has largely increased and there is no one to attend to it. The state troops that have been massed at Paso del Norte are intended to resist the Mexican federal authorities as well as any attempt to rescue Cutting from the the American side of the border. There is an intense prejudice in Chihuahua against Americans. It grows out of the fact that the richest mines in the state are held by citizens of this country under treaty stipulations."

Delaware County Democracy.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 27.—The democratic county committee have agreed to meet August 7 and appoint delegates to the various conventions. Dr. M. James was highly spoken of by the committee as a proper compromise candidate for auditor of state, and will receive the Delaware county vote solid for this or any other state office he may be nominated for. Dr. James has been tried for twenty years, and his ability is beyond reproach. He has been the leader of the democracy in this county for more than twenty years.

He Has Got Enough.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Col. W. H. Bolton, charged with the embezzlement of something like $400,000, while in charge of the second class mail department of the Chicago postoffice, and who was released on bail last evening, did not appear at the government building this morning. The office was placed in the temporary charge of A. S. Reynolds, second weigher.

IN A HEAP.

A St. Louis Business Block Tumbles Down.

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—A two story brick building at 40 Morgan street, collapsed last night. The first floor was occupied by Franz Pelgray, manufacturer of musical instruments, and the second by John Gamble and family. The latter were in bed at 10:30 when they were awakened by a loud crash, caused by the falling of the floor. Fortunately the roof remained in position, but as it was, two children of Gambles' were badly bruised, as was also his wife. Part of the front wall fell outward across the street, scattering brick and debris in every direction. The building is very old and has been notoriously unsafe for some time.

CHOICE BITS.

The News That is Culled for the "Sentinel" Readers.

Distemper is decimating the horses in Harrison county.

A Boston company is to furnish Marion with an electric light system.

Morgan county piscatorial artists have formed a fish protective association.

Mrs. Mary Hardin was brutally outraged by a tramp, yesterday, near Indianapolis.

Jud Andrews, barkeeper of Chas. Reynolds' saloon at Lafayette, fell dead last evening of heart disease.

Three prominent citizens of Madison have recently died—J. S. Craig, Andrew Woerner, and Abraham Luck.

One man near Madison picked and sold over seven thousand quarts of berries from his raspberry bushes this season.

The county commissioners have foreclosed a mortgage for $18,000 on the toll bridge across the Wabash river at Covington.

Thirty-six large rattlesnakes were killed by Dr. Wilson, near Robinson, while he was cutting a thirty-five acre meadow one day last week.

An order prohibiting the use of intoxicating liquors among its employees has been issued by the managers of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago and Lake Erie and Western railroads.

The wives of Charles H. Brown and John Grimsley, two of the three township trustees of Daviess county, who last year issued large quantities of bogus orders payable to R. B. Pollard and went to Canada, have returned. Their husbands are also with them.

Auditor Rice says that the chief difficulty that assessors meet with is in securing a return of personal property. A very small per cent. in this state is listed for taxation, and the methods of assessing are often faulty. Assessors will sometimes agree to return all horses at from $10 to $40 and the most of them are minimum animals. Blooded stock is generally returned at the ordinary valuation of common cattle. An honest assessment of personal property would increase the state's wealth to many millions.

Democratic Candidates.

The following candidates will be before the democratic state convention to be held August 11:

Secretary of state—Lewis Jordan and Myron D. King, of Marion; Robert Miers, of Monroe, John R. Cravens, of Jefferson.

Auditor of state—Chas. A. Munson, of Allen; A. B. Pitzer, of Tipton; Gerard Reiter, of Knox.

Treasurer of state—Thomas B. Bryne, of Vanderburg; John H. Piercey, of Putnam.

Attorney general—Hugh H. McMullen, of Dearborn; J. V. Kent, of Clinton; John Courtney, of Montgomery.

Clerk of supreme court—Cas Byfield and Richard J. Conner, of Marion; Martin Krenger, of Laporte; W. J. Houck, of Jay; J. B. Taylor, of Washington.

Superintendent of public instruction—J. W. Holcombe, of Porter; John Sweeney, of Dubois; D. J. Crittendenberger, of Madison.

Judge of the supreme court—John R. Coffroth, of Tippecanoe; Thomas F. Davidson, of Fountain.

HANLON!

The Senate Takes up His Case.

Senators Harrison and Voorhees Have a Pretty Hot Talk on the Hoosier Politician.

J. E. McDonald is Confirmed as Postmaster at Ligonier—Other News.

COLLECTOR HANLON

And Others on Trial in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—At Cambridge, Mass., last night, Charles F. Conant died. He was assistant secretary of the treasury under Secretary Bristow from 1874 to 1877.

The principal time of the secret session of the senate yesterday, was consumed by Voorhees and Harrison, speaking respectively for and against the confirmation of Collector Thomas Hanlon, of the Seventh Indiana internal revenue district, adversely reported from the finance committee. The case was still pending when recess was taken. Upon reassembling at 8 o'clock it was discovered there was no quorum, and pages were sent out to summon absentees. A few minutes later a quorum had assembled, and the consideration of the Hanlon case was resumed.

Senator Harrison spoke for an hour and a quarter in opposition to confirming, during which he reviewed the charges in detail and produced a large number of letters, petitions, etc., from democrats as well as republicans, against confirmation. Senator Voorhees replied at length and produced indorsement from prominent republicans of the state testifying to Hanlon's good character and capacity. He made an earnest personal plea for his friend and appointee, and at the conclusion of his speech recess was taken to 8 o'clock. When the senate reconvened in secret session there were but few senators present, and by mutual consent the Hanlon case went over to the next session, and unobjected reports on nominations, including a large number of unimportant postmasters, were taken up. Among the nominations confirmed were those of Lawson, superintendent of the mint at San Francisco; J. S. Hager, collector of customs at San Francisco, and James E. McDonald, postmaster at Ligonier, Ind.

The doors were reopened, and the senate proceeded to the consideration of private pension bills which had been favorably reported. A number were passed, including one granting a pension to the widow of Gen. Durbin Ward.

Col. D. S. Lamont has gone to his home in Courtland county, New York, for a few days and it is believed he has gone to make arrangements for the president's summer vacation in the Adirondacks, but no information on that subject can be obtained at the white house.

The senate committee on finance agreed by a majority vote this morning to report the Morrison surplus resolution with amendment. The text of the resolution remains as it came from the house except as to the reserve fund provisions.

Bad Men to Fool With.

LOUISVILLE, July 27.—Just before noon to-day John Koehler, a baker, shot and killed John Carter, a polisher, and mortally wounding Peter Haupt, a brick layer, whom he thought seduced his wife.

Shortly after the Louisville tragedy a similar one occurred across the river, at New Albany, where Prof. J. G. Strunk shot and killed Charles Hoover and seriously wounded his father. Dr. Hoover is charged with being too intimate with Strunk's wife.

appear in market. They come from the "pocket," and enter into competition
with the Georgia melons, which are now at their best. The "pocket" is the southern wing of this state.

The wheat crop throughout the state is the largest for many years. Reports from many places indicate that the average will be about twenty bushels to the acre, and in a number of counties there are instances of as high as forty bushels
per acre having been threshed.

Chas. Loverson and John Donnelly deny that they are endeavoring to organize a strike. They went to Chicago Saturday, but will take no action any way
until Superintendent Law comes here.
At no time did they contemplate a strike
nor do the switchmen here now.

J. D. Hale, clerk of the court, and R.
S. Peterson, attorney, at Decatur, are stead, is interested in the gas and oil wells at St. Marys, Ohio. His company have leased 1,000 acres of land about the wells and hold the monopoly on these lands. It is predicted Mr. Edgerton, who is a son-in-law of Mr. A. H. Bitten-ger, will make a snug bundle out of the oil and gas strike.

The Crawfordsville Argus-News says
of Rev. John R. Dinnen, formerly of the Cathedral parish: "Yesterday was the seventeenth anniversary of the priesthood of Rev. Father Dinnen and the event was duly celebrated by a house
warming in his new pastoral residence.
There were present from abroad Father
Croesing, of Oxford; Father Hellhake,
of Columbia City; Father Mulvey,
of Lebanon; Father Guendling, of La-

men of the Railway Young Men's Christian association will give a grand social and supper. A meeting will be held for the purpose of preparing programs, etc.,
Monday evening next.

Postmaster Snyder, of Lagrange, is in the city. He is in a queer position up in his town. The rival democratic committees claim the mail and under the law he cannot give it up. His only resource is to return it to the dead letter office.

George Wilkinson, John Wells, Isaac
Harris, Pat Denney and Pat Sheedy
were run in for drunkenness last night
and the mayor sent the party to jail this morning. There was not a dollar in the whole crowd and all of them were old topers.

Dr. J. M. Dinnen returned this morning from Terre Haute where he witnessed Dr. L. J. Willien successfully perform a most delicate operation in abdominal surgery. Dr. Willien has a reputation
all over the west for his success in the specialty named. He is a son-in-law of Hon. Wm. Fleming.

The opposition of the Wabash railroad to the passage of the Indianapolis,
Decatur and Springfield railroad through Decatur, so as to be in condition to extend the road westward, has been so persistent and successful that the Indianapolis, Decatur and Springfield has finally abandoned the project.

George Hazzard, who is well known

Indianapolis court on charges of drunkenness, resisting an officer and profanity, is now nearing the end of his remarkable career at Lafontaine, Wabash county, where he has a sister and other relatives living. Hazzard married a Fort Wayne lady and was the most promising business man in northern Indiana at that time.

Mr. Will H. Shambaugh is to-day announced as a candidate for representative in the lower house of the legislature.
The gentleman is a lawyer of earned merit. He has always been a consistent,
active democrat and has made most effective campaign speeches for the party.
He is thoroughly honorable, a gentleman of undoubted integrity and superior intellectual attainments. He is the sort of a man it is always a pleasure to speak well of, because he is deserving.

The weather indications for Indiana
are warmer, fair weather.

T. and L. Hank and John Horst went to Quincy, Ill., last night.

Mrs. Joseph Edsall, of Minneapolis,
Minn., is visiting relatives in the city.

Mrs. Murray Hartnett is entertaining
her charming friend, Mrs. David Mc-Clellan, of Washington, D. C.

Ex-Councilman John Wessel, sr., and wife have returned from Germany. Mr.
Wessel is the picture of health.

The deputy sheriffs went out and arrested a bold gang of tramps at the east yards this morning. The people out there complained.

The remains of Mrs. A. Benton were taken to Toledo for interment at noon
and her relatives and a number of friends
accompanied the remains.

Louis Brown was fined this morning
for assault on Ed Challenger. The rule worked both ways, as Challenger was fined yesterday. Justice Rian heard the cases.

Clerk Flinn has resigned his place at the Rich hotel. He created too great a degree of solidity with the girls there.
Mr. Harry Harrison succeeds him at the Rich.

E. J. Golden and Theo. Theime leave to-morrow for a two weeks pleasure trip.
They will take Niagara Falls, Montreal,
Quebec, Portland, Maine, the White Mountains, and return via New York and other cities.

The proposition of the school trustees
to erect three new buildings, at a cost of $13,800, was approved by a council committee this morning. City Attorney Colerick closely examined the legal phase of the proposed improvement.

Building permits have been granted to Victor A. Hugenard, to erect a one and a half story frame house in Hanna's out lot No. 6, to cost $700, and to John L. Gerke, to repair his frame house on lot 430, Hanna's addition, to cost $250.

MART BURKE.

His Remains Taken to Louisville
for Burial—His Career
on the Road.

The body of Martin Burke was brought in last evening and the Brotherhood of Engineers and a long line of friends followed the casket from the depot to the house, where the face of the dead man was exposed. His features gave evidence of no great suffering, showing that his death was instantaneous. His expression was quite natural and one would scarcely think he met such an awful death when the shattered part of his skull was hidden.

After the funeral services at the Cathedral at noon the remains were taken to the south depot and placed on board a Wabash train for Louisville, where the interment occurs. The Catholic Legion and Engineers' Brotherhood sent an escort, while Mrs. Burke and little son were accompanied by quite a number of personal friends, who were furnished
free transportation by the Pittsburg
Railroad company.

It is said Mrs. Burke will resume her residence here after the funeral. Her husband is known to have $9,000 insurance on his life. Besides being a fearless, trusty engineer, Mr. Burke was a first-class machinist and at one time was master mechanic on the Louisville and Nashville railroad. His wages on the Pittsburg, including premiums for economical runs, averaged from $140 to $180 a month. He had a host of warm friends and the company esteemed him highly. His casket bears touching floral tokens, and altogether it is a lamentable end for such a promising man.

There are no new theories as to the cause of his death, but the company
still inclines to the belief he died with his hand on the throttle of the engine.
The responsibility of leaving the switch open at Valparaiso seems to rest
on Brakeman Wickham, of the local freight. There has been no official,
civil or criminal action in the premises
as yet.

Found Dead on a Railway.

The body of an unknown man was found dead on the Wabash tracks, at Williamsport early yesterday morning.
He is supposed to have been killed by one of the night trains. From papers found on his person it is thought he is from Danville, Ill. He was about six feet tall, of dark complexion, with black hair and brown mustache, and aged about thirty-eight years.

During the heated term do not fret

Rine Caps, who of late years has been a popular jeweler in this city, has now
opened a first-class grocery store at No.
68 East Main street. Mr. Caps is a
No. 1 business man and has a host of friends and will doubtless do a business second to none in the city. He has as fine a grocery stock as can be found in the city and has adopted the rule, quick sales and small profits, which his many friends will no doubt take advantage of.

THE ARSON CASE.

Fred C. Reid Arrested at Chicago
—He and Hewitt will
Have a Hearing
To-morrow.

No bit of news published here for a year attracted the attention that the attempt to burn Kyle & Ried's hat store
did. Willie Ropa, the clerk whom Fred C. Reid took to Chicago, came home yesterday afternoon on the Nickel Plate.
Reid paid all his expenses going up and back. The young man, who is a son of Market Master Ropa, did not question
his master's honesty when he said he wanted to show him Chicago, and never suspected a thing until he read THE SENTINEL.

Capt. Hugh. M. Diehl telegraphed
Chief Ebersole to arrest Reid and soon a reply came that his man was in irons.
Captain Diehl left at midnight to bring his prisoner home at 2 o'clock this afternoon if possible.

It seems Reid has made repeated efforts to dispose of his stock at ridiculously low figures, but did not get the consent of his partner, Mr. Stuart H.
Kyle, who is traveling salesman for a Connecticut hat and cap house. He has been informed of his partner's capers by wire. The hat store is locked up to await his instructions.

Wm. Hewitt, who made such a bunglesome job of his contract to fire the store, has employed Colerick & Oppenheim, the brilliant attorneys, to defend
him. His store near the Washington house, is closed. In it are rugs, washers, and such patent household articles.
The man's wife is nursing in her husband's behalf and is true as steel to him.

This afternoon Deputy Prosecutor Bittinger charged Reid and Hewitt with arson, in two affidavits, and the men will have a hearing to-morrow before Justice Ryan.

REID TALKS.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says to-day:
"Reid was arrested yesterday afternoon
by Officer Slayton. He had been a guest at Kuhn's hotel since he came to Chicago. When told he was a prisoner he said the charge could not be proven. As it was thought best to let the Fort Wayne police do the proving,
Detective Slayton took Reid to the Harrison street police station.

Reid came to Chicago Sunday in company with a young man named Ropa.
The men engaged a room at Kuhn's hotel on Clark street, which both occupied.
Yesterday morning they went out together, and remained away all day.
About 7 o'clock Reid returned alone and engaged another room where he was found."

The Chicago Times adds nothing to the above of interest.

ROME CITY.

The Attractions There To-day
and To-morrow are Great.

To-day was Grand Army day at Rome
City. The Grand Rapids road took forty cars of excursionists from all directions to the Island Park assembly. Major General O. O. Howard, U. S. A., of San Francisco, Cal., lectures on "The Battle of Gettysburg," illustrated by charts and drawings.

Chaplain C. C. McCabe lectures on
"The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison."

General Jasper Packard, Laporte, Ind., describes "From the Delta to Vicksburg," with a series of fine stereo-opticon illustrations. There will be an illumination of the lake and grounds and music on the lake to-night.

The program to-morrow is as follows:

HORROR!

A Negress Kills a Little Babe

And Serves It Roasted for Dinner at a Picnic Given by Colored Folks.

The Frenzied Crowd Seize the Hag and Burn Her at the Stake.

AN OLD WINCH

Serves Roasted Babe at a Picnic. SAVANNAH, Ga., July 27.—A horrible report coming from the lower end of Talnall county has just been received. A negro woman engaged to prepare dinner for a colored picnic murdered a young child which had been left in her charge. She cooked half the remains and served it to the people. The other half of the remains were found skinned down in a barrel. The negroes became perfectly frenzied on making the discovery, seized the woman and burnt her at a stake. The report seems to be authenticated.

CAMP GRAY.

Annual Encampment of the Indiana Militia—Program and Prospects.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 27.—The encampment of the Indiana state militia began in earnest yesterday morning. The following companies have arrived: Company A, third regiment, forty-five men, Charles H. McCarter, Indianapolis; company B, second regiment, forty men, Captain Frank W. Rawles, Fort Wayne; Arnold Rifles, twenty-eight men, Captain James Arnold, South Whitley; Andrews Old Guards, company D, first regiment, seventy-four men, Captain Lasalle Long, Andrews, with the Huntington band; company F, Penn Veterans, twenty-five men, Captain H. F. Baloy, Peru; company G, first regiment, Peru Zouaves, thirty men, Captain Ed Maxwell, Peru; company B, third regiment, thirty men, Captain John M. Powell, Lebanon; Shepherd light infantry, forty men, Captain T. W. Stagg, Indianapolis; company G, McPherson light infantry, forty-seven men, with Portland cornet band, Captain W. W. McKee, Indianapolis; Logan Grays, thirty-six men, Captain Wm. C. Chase, Logansport; Bunker Hill Light Guards, forty-two men, Captain W. Robbins, Bunker Hill; company C, first regiment artillery, fifteen men, Captain J. B. Shaw, Lafayette; Fort Wayne Veterans, forty men, J. B. Harper captain.

The whole day has been occupied in arranging camp. The city is handsomely decorated. Thousands of people are already in attendance, the streets being thronged, and the 150 acres of the fair grounds being alive with men. Floral hall has been made the official rendezvous and supply department. Adjutant General Koonz has fixed his field headquarters where he can view the entire camp. The camp is named Camp Gray, in honor of the governor. By to-morrow the camp will be in shape and the prize drills of the Indiana legion begin. Battery G, first regiment Indiana artillery, from Indianapolis, has entered for the free for all drill, state drill and Gatling gun drill.

To-day and to-morrow the competitive drill will take place. To-morrow morning Barnum and the entire military companies will parade the streets. This will undoubtedly be one of the greatest sights ever witnessed here. Thursday is set aside as "Old Soldiers' Day." Friday is "Governors' Day." The main exercises will be held in the city that day. Governor Gray will review the military from the west wing of the court house, and the prizes will be awarded. Governor Oglesby, of Illinois, and staff have given Adjutant General Koonz, positive assurance of their attendance; Governor Foraker, of Ohio, will not be here, but will be represented by the adjutant general of the state. Lieutenant Governor Manson promises to be present during the entire week. About forty Indiana companies will be in camp. The prizes aggregate $3,700; $1,700 in prizes are to be awarded to the competing organizations of the Indiana Legion; $700 in prizes to be competed for by the veterans of the Indiana Legion. The free-for-all infantry drill prizes to be competed for as follows: First prize $1,000; second, $300; free-for-all zouaves, $300; free-for-all artillery, $400.

KNEW HIM.

The Tramp Killed by a Wabash Train Recognized.

WABASH, Ind., July 27.—Yesterday Coroner Zimmerman, Township Trustee Cory and a reporter accompanied by Brook Lee, of Kilbride, Ontario, went to the poor farm, where they examined the body of William Bell, the man who was run over near Rich Valley by a Wabash train a few days since. Though badly decomposed Lee recognized the features of the dead man as those of his brother, who had given a fictitious name to the officers here. After Lee had secured a look of his brother's hair the body was reinterred, and Lee returned home last evening. It is understood that no further investigations will be made to obtain the identity of the brakeman whom the dead man claimed pushed him off of the moving train, causing his death a few hours later.

MR. STEELE.

Spent $10,000 More Than His Income.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Congressman Steele has said that he will not be a candidate for re-election. He claims that during the time he has been in congress, he has spent $10,000 more than his income, and, besides, he sees no possible chance for a re-election. He said to a friend that his last run was the best one he ever made, though his majority was but fifty-four, and he thought it best to stand upon that. His party will no doubt want to nominate him, but he now gives out that he will decline. He thinks Major Kidd will be the democratic candidate and will be elected.

Charged With Murder.

GREENSBURG, July 26.—Marshal Clemens, of this city, arrested Henry Webster at Osgood this morning about 4 o'clock, and lodged him in jail here. Webster was arrested for stealing a horse in Boone county, this state, and selling the same at Cincinnati. This is the same crime for which Tom Foster was arrested some two weeks ago. Webster is also charged with murdering a man at Camden, N. J., some seven or eight years ago.

Texas Cattle Fever.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 27.—A Bozeman special says: "The Texas fever has broken out among a lot of graded cattle brought here by J. F. Carlin, from Kansas City. Already twenty-one have died and many more deaths are expected. The herd has been quarantined."

Will Not Join the Knights.

NEW YORK, July 27.—After four hours discussion, at a meeting called for the purpose, a resolution was adopted by the Cigar Maker's union opposing the union with the Knights of Labor.

A Prize Fight.

BARRIS STATION, Pa., July 27.—Two miners, Jimmy Sullivan and Miles McGuirk, fought a prize fight of eleven rounds last night, Sullivan being declared the victor.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Wheat, 1 1/4 @ 1 1/2 higher. No. 2 red, August, 85 @ 85 1/2. Corn, 1 1/4 @ 1 1/2 higher, strong, 46 @ 50 1/2. Oats 1 1/4 @ 1 1/2 higher, 37 @ 40.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Wheat, closed steady; cash, 70 1/2; August, 78 1/2. Corn, firmer at 43 1/2. Oats, firm and higher, at 28 1/2.

A BRUTE.

He Murders and Mutilates His Mistress.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 27.—At 11 o'clock last night the police were informed that William O'Connor had confessed to murdering his mistress, Mrs. Hannah Conway. He was found in bed and arrested. Following his directions the officers proceeded to the wood shed, where they dug up the remains of a woman with her legs cut off above the knees. O'Connor appeared not to realize the enormity of his crime. He said one day he stripped the woman, pushed her into the shed and murdered her with an axe. O'Connor is fifty-six years old and has lately been out of work. The woman's age was forty years. They had lived together several months.

British Cabinet.

LONDON, July 27.—The Marquis of Salisbury, Lord Randolph Churchill and Sir Michael Hicks Beach had a long conference this afternoon. It is reported that Lord Salisbury is having trouble in the work of filling the post of chief secretary for Ireland, no man desiring to take the office under the present government.

Lord Cadogan will probably be selected as secretary for the colonies in the new cabinet.

It is stated that Lord Randolph Churchill has accepted the position of chancellor of the exchequer and leader in the house of commons.

OFFICIAL.

Carlton club met this afternoon and the Marquis of Salisbury was given an ovation.

He made an address on the political situation, and dwelt on the wisdom and necessity of acting in accord with the liberal unionists in the Irish policy.

Among the announcements he made was that Right Hon. W. H. Smith had been agreed upon as chief secretary for Ireland.

Stole $60,000.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—William P. Pierson, cashier and chief book keeper of the American Baptist publication society, has been discovered to be defaulter to the amount of $60,000.

Fatal Riots.

AMSTERDAM, July 27.—It is believed twenty persons were killed and eighty wounded in riots yesterday and Sunday.

Reid did not Come.

Capt. Diehl did not bring Fred G. Reid in from Chicago this afternoon as expected but will do so to-night.

BEN EVANS, better known as "Old Red Ben," died a few days ago at the age of one hundred and seven years. It is said that he was part Indian, and was born and lived all his life in Wilkes County, near the Tallapoosa line, in Georgia. He was born the property of Mr. William Evans, at War Hill, on Kittle Creek, and belonged to three generations of the Evans family. When the Kittle Creek battle was fought between the British and Americans he was a little child. He lived all his life within three miles of the place of his birth, and joined the church and was baptized after he was a hundred years old. He was a noted hunter and fisher, and he continued to fish up to a short time before his death. He walked three miles last year to the river to fish.

Mr. GEORGE JONES, publisher of the New York Times, tells the following story of Henry J. Raymond, formerly editor of that paper: Years ago Raymond was a reporter on the Tribune, then edited by Greeley, and was called upon to report a lecture delivered by Sir Edward Lyall. A number of reporters were present, but as the lecturer became technical they one by one dropped out. Mr. Raymond alone remained, and, understanding his subject, made out his report. The lecture was delivered in the old Tabernacle, on Broadway, and Mr. Raymond on his way to the Tribune office encountered a storm which drenched him thoroughly. He wrote out his notes sitting in his wet clothes, and next day was too sick to rise from his bed. It was some eight or nine weeks before he recuperated at the office, and then he found that his salary had been stopped when he fell ill. Mr. Raymond then said: "If ever I am an employer such a thing as this will not occur." And he kept his word.

CORN!

It Enjoys a Boom at Chicago.

The Price Quickly Flies up and the Market is Wild and Excited Over It.

The Anarchists Trial and the Watchfulness of the Canadian Government.

WILD SCENES

On the Chicago Corn Market this Morning.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Corn opened with a boom this morning on account of the drought, with prices over 1c higher for September. The first official sales were at 43 1/2c, but the market was so wild that while there were sellers at 43 1/2c in one part of the crowd it was selling in all others at 44c. Wheat was also stronger in sympathy with corn.

MORE FLOWERS

Are Given the Chicago Anarchists.

CHICAGO, July 27.—At the anarchist trial to-day, several reporters and police officers were examined, mainly in corroboration of the evidence of the previous witnesses, as to the remarks of Fielden, Spies, Parsons and others and the throwing of the bombs. Nothing new was elicited. A woman gave bouquets to the prisoners.

CHICAGO, July 27.—It has recently come to the knowledge of the state attorney that for the past two years the Canadian government has kept two expert detectives in this city watching the movements of Chicago dynamiters in regard to their connection with the Kiel rebellion and other insurrectionary movements contemplated, but not carried out, in that country. It was known that should they be compelled to testify at the present trial they would at once be recognized by socialists and therefore rendered useless for further work. In view of these circumstances they have been recalled within the past few weeks until the trial is concluded when they will return.

THE CUTTING CASE.

Intense Prejudice Existing Against Americans.

NEW YORK, July 27.—A Washington correspondent says: "The government is greatly embarrassed in dealing with the Cutting case, because there is no United States consul at Chihuahua. Formerly this place was of no particular importance, but since the Mexican Central railroad opening and American capital has been invested in mines, the consulate has largely increased and there is no one to attend to it. The state troops that have been massed at Paso del Norte are intended to resist the Mexican federal authorities as well as any attempt to rescue Cutting from the American side of the border. There is an intense prejudice in Chihuahua against Americans. It grows out of the fact that the richest mines in the state are held by citizens of this country under treaty stipulations."

Delaware County Democracy.

MUNROE, Ind., July 27.—The democratic county committee have agreed to meet August 7 and appoint delegates to the various conventions. Dr. M. James was highly spoken of by the committee as a proper compromise candidate for auditor of state, and will receive the Delaware county vote solid for this or any other state office he may be nominated for. Dr. James has been tried for twenty years, and his ability is beyond reproach. He has been the leader of the democracy in this county for more than twenty years.

He Has Got Enough.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Col. W. H. Bolton, charged with the embezzlement of something like $400,000, while in charge of the second class mail department of the Chicago postoffice, and who was released on bail last evening, did not appear at the government building this morning. The office was placed in the temporary charge of A. S. Reynolds, second weigher.

IN A HEAP.

A St. Louis Business Block Tumbles Down.

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—A two story brick building at 40 Morgan street, collapsed last night. The first floor was occupied by Franz Pelgray, manufacturer of musical instruments, and the second by John Gamble and family. The latter were in bed at 10:30 when they were awakened by a loud crash, caused by the falling of the floor. Fortunately the roof remained in position, but as it was, two children of Gambles' were badly bruised, as was also his wife. Part of the front wall fell outward across the street, scattering brick and debris in every direction. The building is very old and has been notoriously unsafe for some time.

CHOICE BITS.

The News That is Called for the "Sentinel" Readers.

Distemper is decimating the horses in Harrison county.

A Boston company is to furnish Marion with an electric light system.

Morgan county piscatorial artists have formed a fish protective association.

Mrs. Mary Hardin was brutally outraged by a tramp, yesterday, near Indianapolis.

Jud Andrews, barkeeper of Chas. Reynolds' saloon at Lafayette, fell dead last evening of heart disease.

Three prominent citizens of Madison have recently died—J. S. Craig, Andrew Woerner, and Abraham Lusk.

One man near Madison picked and sold over seven thousand quarts of berries from his raspberry bushes this season.

The county commissioners have foreclosed a mortgage for $18,000 on the toll bridge across the Wabash river at Covington.

Thirty-six large rattlesnakes were killed by Dr. Wilson, near Robinson, while he was cutting a thirty-five acre meadow one day last week.

An order prohibiting the use of intoxicating liquors among its employees has been issued by the managers of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago and Lake Erie and Western railroads.

The wives of Charles H. Brown and John Grimley, two of the three township trustees of Daviess county, who last year issued large quantities of bogus orders payable to R. B. Pollard and went to Canada, have returned. Their husbands are also with them.

Auditor Rice says that the chief difficulty that assessors meet with is in securing a return of personal property. A very small per cent. in this state is listed for taxation, and the methods of assessing are often faulty. Assessors will sometimes agree to return all horses at from $10 to $40 and the most of them are minimum animals. Blooded stock is generally returned at the ordinary valuation of common cattle. An honest assessment of personal property would increase the state's wealth to many millions.

Democratic Candidates.

The following candidates will be before the democratic state convention to be held August 11:

Secretary of state—Lewis Jordan and Myron D. King, of Marion; Robert Miers, of Monroe; John R. Cravens, of Jefferson.

Auditor of state—Chas. A. Munson, of Allen; A. B. Pitzer, of Tipton; Gerard Reiter, of Knox.

Treasurer of state—Thomas B. Byrne, of Vanderburg; John H. Piercey, of Putnam.

Attorney general—Hugh H. McMullen, of Dearborn; J. V. Kent, of Clinton; John Courtney, of Montgomery.

HANLON!

The Senate Takes up His Case.

Senators Harrison and Voorhees Have a Pretty Hot Talk on the Hoosier Politician.

J. E. McDonald is Confirmed as Postmaster at Ligonier—Other News.

COLLECTOR HANLON

And Others on Trial in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—At Cambridge, Mass., last night, Charles F. Conant died. He was assistant secretary of the treasury under Secretary Bristow from 1874 to 1877.

The principal time of the secret session of the senate yesterday, was consumed by Voorhees and Harrison, speaking respectively for and against the confirmation of Collector Thomas Hanlon, of the Seventh Indiana internal revenue district, adversely reported from the finance committee. The case was still pending when recess was taken. Upon reassembling at 8 o'clock it was discovered there was no quorum, and pages were sent out to summon absentees. A few minutes later a quorum had assembled, and the consideration of the Hanlon case was resumed.

Senator Harrison spoke for an hour and a quarter in opposition to confirming, during which he reviewed the charges in detail and produced a large number of letters, petitions, etc., from democrats as well as republicans, against confirmation. Senator Voorhees replied at length and produced indorsement from prominent republicans of the state testifying to Hanlon's good character and capacity. He made an earnest personal plea for his friend and appointment, and at the conclusion of his speech recess was taken to 8 o'clock. When the senate reconvened in secret session there were but few senators present, and by mutual consent the Hanlon case went over to the next session, and unobjected reports on nominations, including a large number of unimportant postmasters, were taken up. Among the nominations confirmed were those of Lawson, superintendent of the mint at San Francisco; J. S. Hager, collector of customs at San Francisco, and James E. McDonald, postmaster at Ligonier, Ind.

The doors were reopened, and the senate proceeded to the consideration of private pension bills which had been favorably reported. A number were passed, including one granting a pension to the widow of Gen. Durbin Ward.

Col. D. S. Lamont has gone to his home in Courtland county, New York, for a few days and it is believed he has gone to make arrangements for the president's summer vacation in the Adirondacks, but no information on that subject can be obtained at the white house.

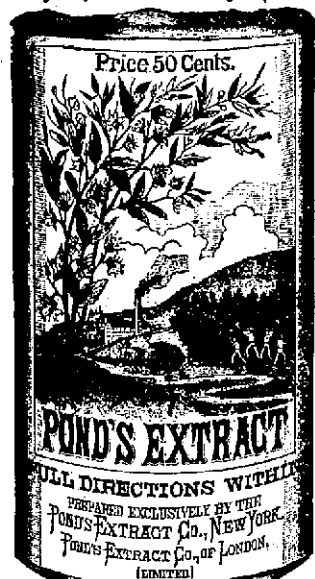

The senate committee on finance agreed by a majority vote this morning to report the Morrison surplus resolution with amendment. The text of the resolution remains as it came from the house except as to the reserve fund provisions.

Bad Men to Fool With.

LOUISVILLE, July 27.—Just before noon to-day John Koehler, a baker, shot and killed John Carter, a polisher, and mortally wounding Peter Haupt, a brick layer, whom he thought seduced his wife.

Shortly after the Louisville tragedy a similar one occurred across the river, at New Albany, where Prof. J. G. Strunk shot and killed Charles Hoover and seriously wounded his father. Dr. Hoover is charged with being too intimate with Strunk's wife.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress, 12th District,
HON. ROBERT LOWRY, of Allen.

ROBERT, a young gentleman
at the theater to a young lady, "I could play the lover better than that myself!"
"I would like to see you try!" was her reply.

JAKE BECKER, a Louisville fireman, bought two snapping-turtles and was carrying them to the engine-house,
where they were to be converted into turtle soup. As he passed a negro, one of the turtles snapped at him and grabbed his coat. Jake tried to tear
the turtle from his hold, and while doing this the other turtle grabbed his hand. In the struggle that followed turtle No. 1 grabbed Jake's fren hand,
and there he was. He ran to the engine-house, a turtle dangling from each
hand, and their hands were cut off.
Still they clung. Jake's hands were so lacerated that he was laid off from duty.

JOHN P. CHASE, of Augusta, Me., is a veteran of the last war who has, perhaps, more wounds than any other soldier living. He passed through most of the war without receiving a scratch, until the conflict on Seminary,
or Wood's Hill. He was serving a gun
of the Fifth Maine Battery, when the explosion of a shell crippled him for life, and he was supposed to be dead,
having received forty-eight wounds by fragments of the shell. In spite of all,
he recovered, and for two years has been a messenger in the Maine House of Representatives. His pension has been increased to $46 a month by a special law.

CAPTAIN JOHN HALEY, of the Fort Popham Life Saving Station, was quietly pulling home from Bath, Me., the other evening in the dark, when he was struck violently on the head and knocked to the bottom of the boat.
The Captain, who thought he was alone
on the waters, was not only surprised but, he confessed, terribly scared. He was greatly relieved when he found that a fifteen-pound sturgeon, in his evening gambolings, had leaped from the water and in his flight through the air whacked the Captain, as aforesaid,
and lay gasping at the bottom of the boat.

PHILADELPHIA Record: Mrs. George
M. Pullman, the wife of the well-known millionaire, passed through this city
on her way to Long Branch, traveling with a degree of comfort and luxury
rarely seen. She, her four children, twelve servants, five horses, and two carriages occupied two large Pullman
cars, both of which were splendidly furnished. That in which Mrs. Pullman and her children rode was filled
up with the most luxurious furniture,
and had a buffet, sitting-room, and
sleeping quarters, all finely appointed.
One of its ornaments is a handsome cabinet organ. Mrs. Pullman's family consists of two girls and two boys.

Let the timid women who are inclined to jump from a carriage every time the horse pricks up his ears read
this story of a Westfield, Mass., girl.
She was driving a spirited horse, when the headstall broke and the bit came out of his mouth. Of course he ran. The girl, perfectly powerless to restrain him, sat upright in her seat, while the frightened animal ran wildly through the streets. She never said a word, even when a daring mob caught on behind and climbed into the buggy, only to find himself quite as powerless as the girl. But his added weight helped,
for after a half-mile run the horse was tired enough to admit of his being caught, and the girl jumped out of the buggy, not much frightened, and not a bit hurt.

An exciting occurrence took place
recently on the farm of Z. T. Dunn, near Millersburg, Ohio. The horses were in a pasture near the orchard,
where Kirk Hummel was at work
mowing weeds. He heard a strange noise among the horses that attracted
his attention, and which finally induced him to go to them and see what was the matter. On nearing the horses he saw a large blacksnake fastened to the nose of one of the horses, which was making frantic efforts to get away from the snake. Young Hummel and a dog
he had with him made a charge on the snake and killed it. It measured over six feet in length. The probability is that the snake bit the horse in the nose,
when its fangs became fastened and it could not let loose, and was being unwillingly jerked about by the horse.

The Voice of the People.
The people, as a whole, seldom make mistakes and the unanimous voice of praise which comes from those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, fully justifies the claims of the proprietors of this great medicine. Indeed, these very claims are based entirely on what the people say.
Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for them.
Read the abundant evidence of its curative
powers, and give it a fair, honest trial.

A BRIDE'S YACHTING SUIT.

How It Caused Her to Miss a Trip to Europe.

(Special Correspondence.)
New York, July 26.—Col. Flinthead, a patient man of this city, who had passed through many campaigns, both
civil and military, fell in love some months ago. The courtship was a very happy one,
unbroken by any storms—as calm and blissful as a sail on an artificial lake. The inevitable conclusion was reached the other day,
when the colonel and his fiancée were married. The wedding was very well.

The colonel has an ancestral home, out of the city a few miles, and thither he took his bride. She looked over the honored castle, and mentally pronounced it dreadfully gloomy,
and made up her mind to modernize it as soon
as she could. Being of the uncertain order of mind, she longed for a more active field socially than the ancestral home promised. It was exclusive to dullness. She suggested Europe. Anxious to please her the gallant colonel consented. He got leave of absence and purchased tickets. He showed them to his beloved wife in great glee.

She looked at them indifferently and said:
"Dearest, don't you think it would be wiser to stay here after all? These fine old trees are just too sweet for anything. Such nice shade
as we have around the house; I hate to leave it."

The colonel looked aghast. "But, my darling," he said, "everything is settled. I can't back down now. And I thought you were most anxious to go?"
It was settled. The colonel, being a man of system as well as of affairs, had all his luggage packed the night before, and as they were to sail at 10 o'clock in the morning, he had nothing to do but get up in the morning,
eat his breakfast and start. At least he thought he had nothing else to do; but when morning came he found that his beloved wife had arranged that he should do a large part of her packing. He strapped and unstrapped trunks, packed and

HER STUNNING YACHTING SUIT.
toiled until he was ready to drop down. At last it was all done,
and he owned himself again until his fair
bride was ready to come forth and give him some more orders. He went out on the porch to chat with a group of friends who had gathered to see them off. Their time was limited anyway. They were to take the steam cars a short distance, then the horse cars. Time passed, and the colonel's bride did not emerge from her dressing room. He was patient till the last hope of getting to the pier had fled. Then he groaned and started on alone. He hid behind a bush near the gate, but his tormentor was to be told that he had gone, and that she would probably miss the trip. He was in hopes that a little scare might make her less tardy in future.

Finally she appeared, and then the cause of all that delay was apparent to every beholder. A stylish and stunning yacht suit of dark blue, trimmed with red, with hon-
net, gloves and complexion to match, accounted for it all. This dazzling toilet had to be made at all risk of missing the ship. She was somewhat staggered when told that her husband had gone, and flew down the path
like a frightened animal. The colonel advanced from his retreat and they started off
at a lively pace. They reached the pier only to see the good ship they expected to sail in glide down the bay, with all their baggage, which had been sent ahead,
on board. Even the placid colonel showed some impatience. They wended their way slowly and sully back to the ancestral home, wiser and less happy than before they had been any talk about Europe. This little incident has been a veritable nettle to their honeymoon.

The gorgeous yacht suit
was laid in tears, and has been buried momentarily. The sight of it seemed to throw a dampness into the sunniest domestic atmosphere.

I tell this story of real life and real foolishness in the hope that other women who keep husbands and escorts waiting may read, perpender and remember.
ETHEL CLARK.

"Independents" in costume are quite the correct thing for women this summer. By that is understood that a bonnet not matching the costume or a jacket quite single and individual, and in no way related to the costume,
can be worn, and nobody will consider the wearer behind the times. Speaking of this progressive fashion of Dame Fashion, a lady
said: "Well, women have been in uniform
long enough."

They are Not Sorry.
There is one thing nobody ever regrets
—that is, the day they first adopted
Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else,
except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Day it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

Day Fever.
I have been a great sufferer from hay fever for fifteen years, and have tried
various things without doing any good.
I read of the many wonderful cures of Ely's Cream Balm and thought I would try once more. In fifteen minutes after my application I felt wonderfully helped.
Two weeks ago I commenced using it and now I feel entirely cured. It is the greatest discovery ever known or heard of.—DUBAZEL CLARK, Farmer, Lee, Mass.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are outting teething. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving
the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes up "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, always all pain
relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea,
whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle,

Temperance in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md.—Perhaps the greatest set-back that the temperance cause has received in this city for a long time, was
the recent disclosures made by a reporter
of the Every Saturday. Among our oldest and most respected citizens are five survivors of the war of 1812, known as
"The Old Defenders," whose ages range from 89 to 93, to whom the people have been accustomed to look with very great respect and veneration, on account of the part they took in the defence of Baltimore in that war. Every year it has been the custom to commemorate the defense
by an anniversary parade and banquet, in which these veterans participate, the day
being a general holiday throughout the State. These old soldiers, hale and hearty in appearance, have marched in procession annually and are the finest specimens of robust old age in the city.
For some time past there has been considerable agitation in this section over the temperance question, the adherents of the cause going so far as to demand absolute prohibition. The reporter of the Every Saturday, who did not sympathize with this movement, accordingly set out in search of public opinion, and among others interviewed were these Old Defenders. He found that every one of them—Mr. John C. Morford, aged 89;
George Boss, 92; Samuel Jennings, 90;
John Peddeord, 90; Nathaniel Watts, 93—
had always been in the habit of taking a little stimulant of some kind, and since the discovery of Duffy's pure malt whisky—an article from which every trace of fusel oil is eliminated by a secret process—this was their favorite brand. In the words of the venerable Nathaniel Watts—aged 93—when interviewed: "That sir," said he, "is what I call a pure article; that is Duffy's pure malt whisky.
That's like they use to have in my time."
An eminent London physician, John Gardner, M. D., whose specialty is diseases of the aged, has written a work on his favorite topic, and the result of his research is, that the only sure and abiding strength which old age receives is a medical treatment, with pure whisky.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleaned, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report
of the cure of my little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his face began to swell and he had every appearance of a large boil. We polished it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very sore and the head
was one solid scab, discharging a great deal.
This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his face being so sore and swollen that he was less than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move
when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another broke out, bone matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and work out; then they would break out again, and so on, three or four times. I persevered. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child, and has never the least mark of the disease remaining; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him a great deal of harm, and the child, using the Cuticura Remedies and soo the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them as you see fit.

My child was really in a "worse condition
than I can describe to my grandmother, who being with him every day, became accustomed

SIGHTS AT LAKE COMO.

GRACE GREENWOOD TALKS ABOUT ITS ROMANTIC ASSOCIATIONS.

The Constancy of the Italians to the Memory of Garibaldi and Mazzini—The Costume of the Lombardy Peasant of the Better Class.

[Special Correspondence.]

CEMINORIA, LAKE DI COMO, June 28.—We have been enjoying in this lovely spot, on the most lovely lake in the world, a blessed little season of rest and refreshment. The weather has been perfect, the air exquisitely pure, and after the heat and heaviness of that of Milan, wonderfully vivifying and exhilarating. Though our object in coming here was rest, the new vigor we soon gained incited us to much outdoor life and many excursions. We one day braved the sun on a steep, unshaded, mountainous road, to visit some friends at San Fermo, a little, primitive village among the hills above Como, near the Swiss boundary. It was just here that Garibaldi's first battle with the Austrians took place in 1859. That was a wonderful strategic triumph, for there were actually less than 1,000 Italians opposed to 10,000 of the enemy, who (the small attacking parties coming from many directions) were led to believe that the hills swarmed with Garibaldians. The chief had so divided his bands of men that "it thundered all round the horizon," with trumpets and drums. He seemed to multiply or ubiquitize himself, his red shirt and his cavalry sword flaming and flashing all over the field. The Austrians, appalled by so much Garibaldi, made good time down the mountains—such as were able to get down at all. Many were unexpectedly detained.

The matches were followed up this victory at once and was another at Como, and soon thousands flocked to his standard, picked up, perhaps, by his declaration that "whoever is able to bear a musket, and does not, is a pitiable wretch." The monument on the little piazza of San Fermo, to the memory of the fourteen Garibaldians who fell on that glorious day, is one of the pilgrim shrines of Italy. It reminded me of the monument at Lexington.

In the office of the sindaco, or mayor, is a fine marble bust of "The Deliverer," the pedestal of which is always hung round with votive wreaths. Before this image of the now Saint Joseph the civil marriages take place, and he seems to smile on the happy couples and bless them in the name of Italian unity. It is strange, the adoring constancy of this light-hearted people to the dear memory of Garibaldi and Mazzini. Monuments, statues and busts of these heroic divinities seem to spring up out of the earth everywhere—the heaviest crop that the soil of Italy bears to-day.

COSTUME OF LOMBARDY PEASANT.

On our way down to Como we met a group of country girls, young and joyous creatures, several of whom were very pretty, and one decidedly beautiful—far more so than any aristocratic Milanese young lady we have yet seen. All, however, would have been more attractive in the picturesque costume of the Lombardy peasant of the better class—a costume now seldom worn except by domestic servants, especially nurses. It is occasionally seen on the stage. "Linda," the heroine of "I Prussiani Spesi," always wears it in the opera of that name. The peculiar part of it is the headpiece, which at a distance looks like a halo, and so, on a laughing, coquettish girl, a little out of character. It is formed of long, narrow, woven strips of silk, or pins, silver, closely woven together and radiating from the back hair. A friend of ours, a young man, once wore it to the opera, and the old, cool conservator enough to allow to the old, old fashion and sport the silver hair-locks in her white hair, says that it takes a professional artist to do the weaving in, and that it is only once a week the poor woman being obliged to sleep in her crown of thorns. Of course, she can only remove her head and, as she is, after the immortal manner of cooks, "not of great account," nature's generous nocturnal recompense may be imagined. It must shake that little villa like an embryonic earthquake. It is antique, it is national, this bristling head gear, but an instrument of torture and only pretty on a pretty girl, like Mazzini's heroine, the gentle Lucia, whose picture I enclose. I cannot completely vouch for the facial likeness of the lady, if ever there was "such a person," having been dead some 250 years—but this is undoubtedly the way she dressed.

The romantic and classic associations of Lake Como are not the least of its charms. There was Claude Melnotte, you know, and there was Piny. We have failed to identify the "palace" of Pandine's "gay deceiver," the young market gardener; but there is a villa called "Piniola," after the old innkeeper, he having described in his writings a certain mysterious figure, now in its court, whose waters have a tidal ebb and flow, as though in secret correspondence with the Atlantic ocean. Piny the younger was born in Como, and wrote enthusiastically of the scenery of this wonderful region; and the lake—Lucius Larius—sparkles with immortal legends in the verse of Virgil. The old Romans, who, like the monks of later days, had an infallible instinct for beautiful and fruitful spots, nestled in luxurious retirement on these picturesque shores, much as the Milanese nobility and gentry do now; but happier were they, in that no pulling and sporting of steamboats or locomotives disturbed their summer siestas; no Cook's tourists invaded their flowery solitudes.

The other morning we were rowed across the lake to look at two villas, still especially interesting to all art-loving visitors—that of Tagliola, the queen daimoise of the world forty years ago, and who, in fact, has had no real successor, and the more stately home of Pista, who probably was the grandest dramatic soprano that Italy has yet produced. In 1851 I first saw these two villas, and also caught glimpses of their famous occupants. As our boat passed before Pista's house, which is a miniature copy of the Scala theatre, the scene of her greatest triumphs, we saw the grand singer herself, taking a stroll on the

terrace. She was stately—and more; she was huge, stupendous. And yet she did not appear burdened by her flesh, or anything else. Her face was full of content and pride as she looked round on her long, lovely strip of Paradise, on the garden, the shrubbery, the summer houses, the pretty theatre and the rustic cottages, and beheld all as the creation of her genius, in partnership with nature. She should have lived on and on in this fairy realm of song, and I should have found her here after these "many days." And Tagliola should have been dancing still, floating in and out among the lights and shadows of her garden on the lake. But alas! the days long ago gathered the white robes of Norma about her and passed out of mortal sight, and faded into a tradition as her glorious voice had trembled away into silence. A while longer the "sylphide" fluttered on, but at last she too faded her gossamer wings, and disappeared from the stage, the lesser and the greater. She also has become a tradition—a tradition of music in motion—of grace imitable, of lightness inconceivable. She was the greatest, if not the very last of the old school of dancers; purely artistic in style, poetic in sentiment and modest in dress and demeanor. Since her time ballet dancing has become more automatic and acrobatic, more difficult, perhaps, in its tense, interminable poses, its peripatetic muscular endurance and marvelous feats of agility; but its old poetic enchantment has changed into a volubulous bacchanal intoxication, making it less a fine art, than a "black art." Since her time the dancer's smile which used to come and go easily and naturally, with charming effect, has lengthened and tightened into a grin, and her floating, airy drapery has shortened and stiffened into a ruff, very much misplaced. On that long summer morning I also saw Tagliola, as she was standing on her balcony looking smilingly out on the lake—a light, graceful little figure, robed in white, and all a-flutter with gay ribbons. More than a quarter of a century later I again saw her, at a large and merry garden party in London—then a little thin, bent, sad-eyed old lady, all in black, sitting retired from the crowd with two or three other elderly artists. Our hostess pointed her out to me, but till I saw her rise and come across the lawn to take leave of that pleasant hostess—moving with something of a dancer's elasticity of step and peculiar swing of the skirts, as though she were walking up the stage—not till I marked her matchless grace of manner and the sweetness of her parting smile could I realize that before us was indeed that fairy and airy creature who used to float across the scene, brushing over, but not, they said, bending from, and flowers—she whose very flesh seemed dappled, like her drapery, whose bones seemed filled with air, like those of birds—she whose chaste, tender and exquisite nature even Chateaubriand raved about—she who was "La Sylphide."

Caroline, Caroline of Brunswick, the unwedded Queen of England, when Princess of Wales, sought such consolation as nature could give, for her matrimonial troubles and squabbles, with that "first gentleman and brute" of Europe, George IV. In sight of our windows is the Villa d'Este, now the Hotel de la Reine d'Angleterre, a sort of monument of that unhappy princess, as the oldest part was once her palace and figures in history as the nursery of the shameful scandal which finally resulted in the famous "trial of Queen Caroline." Here, with a court, small, but jolly, she rode, and sat, and strolled and danced with a reckless, restless gaiety, unconscious that the spies of her royal enemies were all about her, as alert and keen-eyed as the lizards, darting in and out of the shrubbery and rockwork along her garden paths. Here she was served by the handsome Italian courier, or valet, known on the trial as "non-mirrored," he not recollecting anything in the least criminalizing to himself or his mistress. Queen Caroline was doubtless a much injured and persecuted woman, but she was not a prude or a Puritan—and probably was as far from being a Puritan as her husband was from being a Casar, and only by her maternal love saved from becoming an utterly reckless royal adventurer, sowing Europe with scandals.

Speaking of adventures, I am reminded of the famous, or infamous "Fanny Hill," or Mrs. Harriet Elv Blackford, who lately died in Paris, expelled for the second time from that gay capital, as some dozen years before she had been expelled from St. Petersburg, where she had incited an infatuated lover, the Grand Duke Nicholas Constantinevich, to the trial of his mother's diamonds; and as a few years later, she had been expelled from Rome, where it was said she had seduced another royal or semi-royal lover, Count Mirafiori, son of the king's morganatic wife, into raising money by a clever imitation of the signature of his revered sire. We were at home when the scandal broke out and the lady was moved on in such a summary manner that her maid was obliged to take a bundle of her linen, wet and dripping from the licks of the hotel laundry. So it seems that she let one royal admirer to steal from her, and the other from her father, but what were these crimes to that of robbing her own mother of all joy and peace in life, and dishonoring the name of her dead father?

A short time after the expulsion from Rome we chanced to see Mrs. Blackford in Naples driving alone, but with a gallant young officer riding beside her husband. She was then a slight, graceful, exceedingly pretty woman, seeming still very young, and with a strange look of innocence in her beautiful, appealing eyes, and she was dressed with quiet elegance. Nothing striking about her, except her personality or something more and rarer than beauty. "Blood will tell," stories sometimes. This reckless, wicked, abandoned adventuress came of good old New England Puritan stock. Her father, Dr. Ezra Styles Elv, of Philadelphia, a distinguished divine, was the son of a divine and the grandson of other divines. "D. D." was a family decoration. The Elv and Styles boys were born into pulpits and presbyteries. Good old Dr. Elv was the pastor of my father and mother, and of the historical Trumbull family, in the sober, aristocratic old town of Lebanon, Conn. A godly, proper and infinitely respectable couple were the parents and his wife (she was a Styles), a model pair, who lived modestly and righteously and peacefully. But ah! if they could have had a prophetic vision of the career of their youngest granddaughter! Since their time we have become a great country—have developed steam, electricity, woman's rights, and have sent out the boldest explorers and greatest adventuresses of the world.

By the way, I came very near letting off one of those "things" one would rather have left unsaid! On seeing in the evening paper the dispatch from Paris, announcing the demands of the noted adventuress, I was reminded of the time when we were at a fair and elegant Polish lady, who, in her girlhood, was a beauty, a toast and a prime daimoise in the Russian capital, and who, though a little passed, is still very lovely, with a complexion of milk and rose and a glory of golden hair—the sort of woman who would impress one as having a history, which she has. Though now happily married to a Russian officer and associating with titled ladies, it is an open secret that she once sustained a morganatic, or a still less formal, relation to a very high personage in Russia. Forgetting this Russian romance, I was about calling the attention of the lady and her husband to the necrological paragraph, when a friend who better knew her story whispered that "Miss Elv" had actually been the successful rival of Miss V. (that the princely protector and victim of the wit of the Philadelphia and the mysterious "Grand Duke," whose vagrant affections are said to have once twined about the tall and slender Tole, were one and the same Nicholas and kindred Constantinevich. It was a little ridiculous, but oh!—such a thing as one looks for only in novels. After all, the world is narrow, and about the center of it is a Milan Pension. GRACE GREENWOOD.

INTERESTING TO ALL ATHLETES—What L. E. Myers says, after his repeated victories over W. G. George, the celebrated English runner, at Madison Square Garden, New York City:

New York, May 10th, 1886.
Pond's Extract Co.
Dear Sir:

I have used POND'S EXTRACT constantly as a rubbing material, and find it to be the best article of the kind I ever used. It removes stiffness and soreness of the muscles like magic, and in my opinion is destined to be the liniment for athletic purposes.

Yours truly, L. E. Myers.

Pond's Extract is used by all the leading athletes, and is invaluable for Sprains, Soreness, Stiffness, Bruises, Chaffs and all kinds of Pains and Inflammations. It is sold everywhere. Carefully avoid imitations.

The young son of George Heffner, of Ligonier, who was wounded several weeks ago by the accidental discharge of a target gun, died of injuries yesterday. Inflammation set in and could not be controlled, and death resulted from lack of air.

In Your Liver out is Order.

Then is your whole system deranged—the blood is impure, the breath offensive, you have a headache, feel languid, dispirited and nervous, have no appetite, your sleep is troubled and unrefreshing. To prevent a more serious condition, take at once a half tablespoonful of Simmons' Liver Regulator, three times a day—it will soon restore the healthy action of the liver, bowels and kidneys.

"I recommend Simmons' Liver Regulator to all my friends, as I have personally known it to cure all liver disorders and sick headache." A. Mennerly, Beverly, N. J.

The Indianapolis Sentinel will soon put on a "new dress." The Sentinel is improving every day.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a child, she cried for Castoria, When she became a girl, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Sam Small will deliver an address at the annual temperance rally at Fairfield, Ind., August 7. Fifteen thousand people are expected to be present.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE Cod Liver Oil, With Hypophosphates, For Wasting Diseases of Children.

Where the digestive powers are feeble and the ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and is almost as palatable as milk. Take no other.

There are 400,000 teachers in the United States about 290,000 schools. Consequently 110,000 teachers must live in hopes during the year. Each of the idle ones firmly believe that "for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the beauteous school board is penial."

"The Proper Study of Manhood is Man," says the illustrious Pope. If he had included woman in the list, he would have been nearer the truth, if not so poetical.

Dr. R. V. Pierce has made them both a life study, especially woman, and the peculiar derangements to which her delicate system is liable. Many women in the land who are acquainted with Dr. Pierce only through his "Favorite Prescriptions," bless him with all their hearts, for he has brought them the panacea for all those chronic ailments peculiar to their sex; such as leucorrhoea, prostrations and other displacements, ulcerations, "internal fever," bloating tendency to internal cancer, and other ailments. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

Miss Lou Goble, a domestic at the National hotel, Wash., has been convicted of a long series of petty thefts.

In the Dear Old Days.

We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of your blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balm will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50-cent article for the hair.

Sam Jones will be at Roma City on August 4th.

The universal verdict; "The Hop Plaster is the best porous plaster ever made." Only 25 cents.

Fruit House Bulletin

Great Reduction in Prices for 1886.

Goods are so low now that it can hardly be expected that there will be any further decline, so that those laying in full supplies will not likely be disappointed.

Coffee Down 2c, Tea Down 10c, Sugars Down 1-2c, Syrups Down 10c, Turkish Prunes Down 1c.

Best Rio Coffee down to 10c a pound; good Rio coffee down to 8c a pound; best Roasted Rio down to 12 1/2c a pound; Government Java, 20c; Roasted Java 25c.

TEAS Reduced in Proportion.

As no more luxury to buy Tea. When they were $1 and $2 per pound then of course the cost of them was high, but now the price is so low that a good Tea can be bought at 20c per pound then they come within the reach of all. We are enabled to sell so low simply in consequence of our immense trade. At times we sell two and three chests daily, and buying direct of the importers and selling direct to the consumers, enabling us to save our customers the profits of the jobber, speculator and wholesale merchant which is at least 10 to 20 per cent.

Young Hyson, good, 20c; choice, 30c; best, 50c; Gunpowder, good, 30c; choice, 40c; best, 60c; Oolong, or Black Tea, good, 20c; choice, 30c; best, 50c; Japan Tea, uncolored, 30c; choice, 40c; best, 60c; English Breakfast, good, 20c; best, 50c per pound.

TUESDAY, JULY 27, 1896.

THE CITY.

Barnum's circus is at Logansport today.

Mr. S. J. Baily returned last night from Indianapolis.

United States Marshal Hawkins is at Washington again.

Rine Caps has opened a grocery store at No. 68 East Main street.

Fort Wayne people are coming home from the Milwaukee seuegerfest.

Sheriff Nelson took Mrs. Baer, an insane patient, to the state asylum.

The Bell Telephone company is just now crushing out rival companies in the state.

There is now talk of draining the Kankakee swamp. The Little river project stirred it up.

Frank Dildine, writes another letter to the Warsaw Times. He wants the old land marks perpetuated.

Rev. J. H. Ouchtering, the pastor, will let the contract August 3d, for building the St. Mary's Catholic church.

Officer Fuchshuber went to Lafayette with the old veterans. Mr. Fuchshuber is little, but a daisy just the same.

Jacob Potlitzer was at Lafayette last week. The firm is enjoying a great boom on fruits during the reunion there.

The Globe mills have a new delivery wagon on the streets. Mr. J. B. Manning is booming things and new machinery is now operated all through his mill.

The internal revenue receipts of this district for the year ending in June were $168,088.73. The total amount collected in the state for the year was $3,873,230.48.

Conductor Wm. Sheehan is going to Springfield, Ill., to-morrow. Mr. W. B. Beamer will assign him a run on the Wabash.

Councilman Racine writes an open letter criticizing Mr. John Slater's assessment. Mr. Racine is a republican, so this time there is not a democrat in the wood-pile.

The Jeffersonian club will go to the democratic state convention. The members will not forget their commander and propose to give Mr. Munson a boom at the state capital.

Mr. J. B. Harper was hurrying to catch a train yesterday. He stepped on a pile of cut stone near the south depot and sprained his ankle. He is about by the aid of a cane.

Hon. Martin Kreuger, of Laporte, went to Columbia City, yesterday to meet his friend Hon. Eli W. Brown. Mr. Kreuger is in the lead for clerk of the supreme court.

The Old New National bank people have purchased a number of lots at New Haven. The Messrs. Schneller, Gotha, Rogers, Dowling and others are pushing New Haven to the front.

Indiana watermelons are beginning to appear in market. They come from the "pocket," and enter into competition with the Georgia melons, which are now at their best. The "pocket" is the southern wing of this state.

The wheat crop throughout the state is the largest for many years. Reports from many places indicate that the average will be about twenty bushels to the acre, and in a number of counties there are instances of as high as forty bushels per acre having been threshed.

Chas. Loverson and John Donnelly deny that they are endeavoring to organize a strike. They went to Chicago Saturday, but will take no action any way until Superintendent Law comes here. At no time did they contemplate a strike nor do the switchmen here now.

J. D. Hale, clerk of the court, and R. S. Peterson, attorney, at Decatur, are circulating among the tax payers, praying the county commissioners to call an election to vote $3,000 aid to secure the right of way for the Dayton and Chicago road between that city and Wilsboro, O.

Dick Edgerton, son of Hon. A. P. Edgerton, who lives at the Hicksville home, is interested in the gas and oil wells at St. Marys, Ohio. His company have leased 1,000 acres of land about the wells and hold the monopoly on these lands. It is predicted Mr. Edgerton, who is a son-in-law of Mr. A. H. Bittenger, will make a snug bundle out of the oil and gas strike.

The Crawfordsville Argus-News says of Rev. John R. Dinnen, formerly of the Cathedral parish: "Yesterday was the seventeenth anniversary of the priesthood of Rev. Father Dinnen and the event was duly celebrated by a house warming in his new pastoral residence. There were present from abroad Father Croesing, of Oxford; Father Hellmike, of Columbia City; Father Mulvey, of Lebanon; Father Guendling, of Lafayette, and Father Versides, of Kankakee. All of the reverend gentlemen save the last named, have returned to their several homes."

Supt. P. S. O'Rourke is at home from Petoskey.

The city council will convene in regular session to-night.

Prof. Spencer R. Smith and bride are expected home to-morrow.

Mr. Frank Archer left yesterday for a tour of northern Dakota.

Edward Challenger paid $1 and costs yesterday for provoking Louis Brown.

D. C. Fisher is confined to his bed by a very severe attack of cholera morbus.

Grace Reformed church and Sabbath school will picnic at the orphans' home to-morrow.

John Haller, of the firm of Haller & Medsker, spent Sunday with relatives in Andrews.

Rev. W. N. Webb writes Mr. H. W. Mordhurst that he will return home Saturday next.

W. A. Russell, the iron fence man, at 59 East Columbia street, is threatened with typhoid fever.

Mr. J. Chas. Holm, an artist of Dayton, Ohio, is engaged frescoing the Aveline house parlors.

Mrs. D. C. Fisher and children returned home from Peru yesterday evening, after a very pleasant visit.

Miss Tillie Neuschwander, of A. Mergenthalm's, has gone to New York City to spend a month's vacation.

Mrs. Judge Lowry left this morning for Erie, Pennsylvania, to visit her sister, who is lying at the point of death.

Ex-President Elder Meredith, of this city, has just invented and perfected an attachment for office tables and writing desks.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller and Mrs. Worthey Croxon and daughter leave for Petoskey, Mich., this week, to remain a month.

A hunter from Bloomingdale was injured by a hand car north on the Lake Shore road Sunday. He does not want his name published.

Professor Seibel and his family left for New York City, where he has accepted a position as teacher in a German Lutheran school.

There was a neighborhood quarrel in Archer's addition and Mrs. Ernestine Burk was the first victim brought in. The racket will be aired before Mayor Mahler.

Since yesterday only five cents have to be paid for money orders from one cent up to $5. For money orders from $5 to $10 eight cents are charged as heretofore.

An eight-months-old child of Jacob Fry, living at No. 104 Ewing street, died last night of cholera infantum and will be buried from the Wayne street M. E. church Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mohr and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fox will start for Toronto to-morrow and a trip down the St. Lawrence river is on their program. Mr. Mohr promises a letter to THE SENTINEL.

Friday, the 6th of August, the gentlemen of the Railway Young Men's Christian association will give a grand social and supper. A meeting will be held for the purpose of preparing programs, etc., Monday evening next.

Postmaster Snyder, of Lagrange, is in the city. He is in a queer position up in his town. The rival democratic committees claim the mail and under the law he cannot give it up. His only resource is to return it to the dead letter office.

George Wilkinson, John Wells, Isaac Harris, Pat Dempsey and Pat Sheedy were run in for drunkenness last night and the mayor sent the party to jail this morning. There was not a dollar in the whole crowd and all of them were old toppers.

Dr. J. M. Dinnen returned this morning from Terre Haute where he witnessed Dr. L. J. Willien successfully perform a most delicate operation in abdominal surgery. Dr. Willien has a reputation all over the west for his success in the specialty named. He is a son-in-law of Hon. Wm. Fleming.

The opposition of the Wabash railroad to the passage of the Indianapolis, Decatur and Springfield railroad through Decatur, so as to be in condition to extend the road westward, has been so persistent and successful that the Indianapolis, Decatur and Springfield has finally abandoned the project.

George Hazzard, who is well known here and was recently defendant in an Indianapolis court on charges of drunkenness, relating an officer and profanity, is now nearing the end of his remarkable career at LaFontaine, Wabash county, where he has a sister and other relatives living. Hazzard married a Fort Wayne lady and was the most promising business man in northern Indiana at that time.

Mr. Will H. Shambaugh is to-day announced as a candidate for representative in the lower house of the legislature. The gentleman is a lawyer of earned merit. He has always been a consistent, active democrat and has made most effective campaign speeches for the party. He is thoroughly honorable, a gentleman of undoubted integrity and superior intellectual attainments. He is the sort of a man it is always a pleasure to speak well of, because he is deserving.

The weather indications for Indiana are warmer, fair weather.

T. and L. Hank and John Horst went to Quincy, Ill., last night.

Mrs. Joseph Edsall, of Minneapolis, Minn., is visiting relatives in the city.

Mrs. Murray Hartnett is entertaining her charming friend, Mrs. David McClellan, of Washington, D. C.

Ex-Councilman John Wessel, ex., and wife have returned from Germany. Mr. Wessel is the picture of health.

The deputy sheriffs went out and arrested a bold gang of tramps at the east yards this morning. The people out there complained.

The remains of Mrs. A. Benton were taken to Toledo for interment at noon and her relatives and a number of friends accompanied the remains.

Louis Brown was fined this morning for assault on Ed Challenger. The rule worked both ways, as Challenger was fined yesterday. Justice Rian heard the cases.

Clark Flinn has resigned his place at the Rich hotel. He created too great a degree of solidity with the girls there. Mr. Harry Harrison succeeds him at the Rich.

E. J. Golden and Theo. Theime leave to-morrow for a two weeks pleasure trip. They will take in Niagara Falls, Montreal, Quebec, Portland, Maine, the White Mountains, and return via New York and other cities.

The proposition of the school trustees to erect three new buildings, at a cost of $13,800, was approved by a council committee this morning. City Attorney Colerick closely examined the legal phase of the proposed improvement.

Building permits have been granted to Victor A. Hagenard, to erect a one and a half story frame house in Hanna's lot No. 6, to cost $700, and to John L. Gerke, to repair his frame house on lot 430, Hanna's addition, to cost $250.

MART BURKE.

His Remains Taken to Louisville for Burial—His Career on the Road.

The body of Martin Burke was brought in last evening and the Brotherhood of Engineers and a long line of friends followed the casket from the depot to the house, where the face of the dead man was exposed. His features gave evidence of no great suffering, showing that his death was instantaneous. His expression was quite natural and one would scarcely think he met such an awful death when the shattered part of his skull was hidden.

After the funeral services at the Cathedral at noon the remains were taken to the south depot and placed on board a Wabash train for Louisville, where the interment occurs. The Catholic Legion and Engineers' Brotherhood sent an escort, while Mrs. Burke and little son were accompanied by quite a number of personal friends, who were furnished free transportation by the Pittsburg Railroad company.

It is said Mrs. Burke will resume her residence here after the funeral. Her husband is known to have $9,000 insurance on his life. Besides being a fearless, trusty engineer, Mr. Burke was a first-class machinist and at one time was master mechanic on the Louisville and Nashville railroad. His wages on the Pittsburg, including premiums for economical runs, averaged from $140 to $180 a month. He had a host of warm friends and the company esteemed him highly. His casket bears touching floral tokens, and altogether it is a lamentable end for such a promising man.

There are no new theories as to the cause of his death, but the company still inclines to the belief he died with his hand on the throttle of the engine. The responsibility of leaving the switch open at Valparaiso seems to rest on Brakeman Wickham, of the local freight. There has been no official, civil or criminal action in the premises as yet.

Found Dead on a Railway.

The body of an unknown man was found dead on the Wabash tracks, at Williamsport early yesterday morning. He is supposed to have been killed by one of the night trains. From papers found on his person it is thought he is from Danville, Ill. He was about six feet tall, of dark complexion, with black hair and brown mustache, and aged about thirty-eight years.

During the heated term do not fret and stew over a hot stove, but buy your Cakes at the Yankee Grocery. 27-2t

Rine Caps, who of late years has been a popular jeweler in this city, has now opened a first-class grocery store at No. 68 East Main street. Mr. Caps is a No. 1 business man and has a host of friends and will doubtless do a business second to none in the city. He has as fine a grocery stock as can be found in the city and has adopted the rule, quick sales and small profits, which his many friends will no doubt take advantage of.

New crop Uncolored Japan Tea 50c. per pound, better than you can buy in home at 75c. YANKEE GROCERY.

WANTED—Two dining room girls and one dish-washer at the Rich Hotel.

THE ARSON CASE.

Fred C. Reid Arrested at Chicago

—He and Hewitt will

Have a Hearing

To-morrow.

No bit of news published here for a year attracted the attention that the attempt to burn Kyle & Reid's hat store did. Willie Ropa, the clerk whom Fred C. Reid took to Chicago, came home yesterday afternoon on the Nickel Plate. Reid paid all his expenses going up and back. The young man, who is a son of Market Master Ropa, did not question his master's honesty when he said he wanted to show him Chicago, and never suspected a thing until he read THE SENTINEL.

Capt. Hugh M. Diehl telegraphed Chief Ebersole to arrest Reid and soon a reply came that his man was in iron. Captain Diehl left at midnight to bring his prisoner home at 2 o'clock this afternoon if possible.

It seems Reid has made repeated efforts to dispose of his stock at ridiculously low figures, but did not get the consent of his partner, Mr. Stuart H. Kyle, who is traveling salesman for a Connection hat and cap house. He has been informed of his partner's capers by wire. The hat store is locked up to await his instructions.

Wm. Hewitt, who made such a bunglesome job of his contract to fire the store, has employed Colerick & Oppenheim, the brilliant attorneys, to defend him. His store near the Washington house is closed. In it are rugs, washers, and such patent household articles. The man's wife is untiring in her husband's behalf and is true as steel to him. This afternoon Deputy Prosecutor Bittenger charged Reid and Hewitt with arson, in two affidavits, and the men will have a hearing to-morrow before Justice Ryan.

REID TALKS.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says to-day: "Reid was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Slayton. He had been a guest at Kuhn's hotel since he came to Chicago. When told he was a prisoner he said the charge could not be proven. As it was thought best to let the Fort Wayne police do the proving, Detective Slayton took Reid to the Harrison street police station.

Reid came to Chicago Sunday in company with a young man named Ropa. The men engaged a room at Kuhn's hotel on Clark street, which both occupied. Yesterday morning they went out together, and remained away all day. About 7 o'clock Reid returned alone and engaged another room where he was found."

The Chicago Times adds nothing to the above of interest.

ROME CITY.

The Attractions There To-day and To-morrow are Great.

To-day was Grand Army day at Rome City. The Grand Rapids road took forty cars of excursionists from all directions to the Island Park assembly. Major General O. O. Howard, U. S. A., of San Francisco, Cal., lectures on "The Battle of Gettysburg," illustrated by charts and drawings. Chaplain C. C. McCabo lectures on "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison." General Jasper Packard, Laporte, Ind., describes "From the Delta to Vicksburg," with a series of fine stereoscopic illustrations. There will be an illumination of the lake and grounds and music on the lake to-night.

The program to-morrow is as follows: 11:00.—Lecture. Mr. Leon H. Vincent, of Philadelphia, Pa., "Toreau, the Walden philosopher." 2:30 p. m.—Lecture. Rev. A. A. Willett, D. D., pastor Warren memorial Presbyterian church, Louisville, Kentucky, "Sunshine." 8:00 p. m.—Lecture. General Jasper Packard, Laporte, Ind. "From the Delta to Vicksburg," illustrated by fine stereoscopic views.

"100 does one dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

To-morrow morning at 9 o'clock M. Frank & Co. open a special sale of ladies' and children's summer gloves and mitts. It will pay every lady in the city to call and examine the bargains offered at the
